CLX Investment Company Schedules Clinical Trials for Zonda's Rapid Point of Care Test for Chlamydia

Chlamydia Cited as Growing Health Concern as Infections Top Million Reported Annually; CDC Recommends Testing for All Women Under 26

Javelin Advisory Group client, CLX Investment Company (OTC BB:CLXN), which owns 51% of Zonda, Incorporated, a developer and manufacturer of unique diagnostic tests for the medical and non-medical markets, has announced that Safis Solutions, LLC is preparing to initiate clinical trials for Zonda's rapid point of care test for Chlamydia as part of the process to achieve FDA clearance for the product. CLX anticipates a mid to late first calendar quarter 2008 beginning for the clinical trials for the Zonda Chlamydia product.

Safis Solutions (www.safis-solutions.com), an Indianapolis-based regulatory compliance consulting company serving pharmaceutical, medical device and biotech companies worldwide, has been retained as a sub-contractor of American Health Partners, LLC (AHP), which has been engaged by CLX to assist with the launch of medical diagnostic testing products in its subsidiary operations. Safis Solutions is providing ongoing consulting services in the areas of regulatory approvals and quality systems for Zonda and additional potential future medical diagnostic technologies acquired by CLX.

Solutions, LLC

Zonda, and CLX expects to have a contract in place with a CRO by the end of January.

Safis has initiated work on the testing protocol and will submit it to the FDA before testing begins. Safis has developed estimates on the number of expected clinical sites and the anticipated timeframe necessary to gather data. Once the clinical data is completed, the data will be analyzed and Safis Solutions will prepare and submit documents for FDA clearance, which will allow for its sale in the United States.

"We are pleased with the schedule that Safis Solutions has developed for clinical trials and subsequent work related to the planned FDA submission for Zonda's Chlamydia test," stated Vera Leonard, president and chief executive officer of CLX Investment Company.

"The anticipated timetable for the FDA submission should compare very favorably with the standard expectations for the process. We look forward to initiating the clinical trials under the guidance of Safis Solutions and AHP, and we plan to keep CLX shareholders updated with any reportable milestones in the process," she added.

According to the "Centers for Disease Control and Prevention: 2006 Surveillance Data, Chlamydia" and the "U.S. Census Bureau, 2006 population estimates," Chlamydia trachomatis infections are the most commonly reported notifiable disease in the United States. They are among the most prevalent of all STDs and, since 1994, have comprised the largest proportion of all STDs reported to CDC.

A Word From The Managing Director

Closing A Successful 2007... and Planning for a Greater 2008

As Javelin Advisory Group closes the book on the 2007 calendar year and focuses its attention on its clients' 2008 performance, I would like to take this opportunity to reflect on the events of last year and how we expect to continue and improve results for this year.

2007 began with the early stages of Franchise Capital's acquisition of Aero Exhaust. This transaction successfully closed in October, and we look forward to supporting Aero with ongoing compliance and public company advisory services. Aero products are almost unanimously regarded as the best in the industry, and we believe that it is only a matter of time and implementation of the proper business growth strategy that will result in sustained, long-term value delivered for shareholders.

While the Aero acquisition closed in 2007, other clients were being positioned during the year for transactions that we expect to close in 2008. One of these is GTREX Capital, and we are very excited about the potential of the merger candidate that we have targeted. While we are still at the initial agreement stage, substantial due diligence has already been undertaken and I have traveled extensively for face to face meetings with many of the key principals involved with the merger candidate and its related businesses. This is a tremendous, high profile, international opportunity, which could bring attention far beyond the public markets.

CLX has reached the stage where it is not only preparing for the start of clinical trials for Zonda's rapid point-of-care Chlamydia test, but it is also evaluating additional technologies that it may acquire, license and distribute. The broad strategy for CLX is to have multiple products and technologies in various stages of regulatory approval and distribution status, each with the potential for tremendous growth in the medical diagnostic testing space.

We have observed the recent close of Dalian Chuming Group's reverse merger into a U.S. public company. Despite the fact that our ActionView International client was not used as the public vehicle for the transaction, ActionView will still receive the repayment and equity bonus for its involvement in providing capital to facilitate the transaction. Even better, we have several quality merger candidates for ActionView, and we expect to close a transaction in the 1st quarter of 2008.

As we work on these transactions and with all of our client companies in 2008, we look forward to a year of significant activity and positive performance. All of our clients are judged to have as of yet unrealized upside potential and we expect at least some of this potential to be realized in the coming year.

We hope that those following the activities and Javelin clients will not only continue to monitor press releases and The Javelin Index, but will also check in on the newly launched blog on the Javelin Advisory website. I look forward to keeping this blog current and providing interesting information on my activities and how they relate to our client companies.

This continues to be an exciting time for Javelin Advisory Group and its network of associates and we look forward to another successful year in 2008.

Best regards,
Steven R. Peacock, Managing Director

GTREX Capital Seeks Merger with International Green Brand for Sustainable Tourism

There will be two operating subsidiaries of the public company: the existing subsidiary of the acquired company, and GTREX Capital's current operating subsidiary, Global Travel Exchange, a travel distribution technology company that provides a more efficient and cost-effective connection between customers and travel suppliers.

There are anticipated to be several immediate synergies between Global Travel Exchange and the existing subsidiary of the acquired entity, as well as opportunities with additional affiliated businesses and intellectual properties. These synergies are related to the use of Global Travel Exchange's travel distribution technology in global initiatives related to travel and tourism.

As part of the expected merger transaction, GTREX Capital is expected to appoint a high profile management team with established names in the international tourism, travel, hospitality, and business management fields.

Steven R. Peacock, interim president/chief executive officer of GTREX Capital, commented, "This initial agreement is an important milestone in our efforts to create long-term value for the company's shareholders."

In November, Mr. Peacock attended a major international environmental conference, where he and Gary Nerison, chairman of the company's Board of Directors, conducted meetings related to the initial agreement and the merger strategy.

"We look forward to providing additional details of the proposed transaction, as well as the individuals, businesses and intellectual assets that are expected to be involved in the merger, as soon as possible," Mr. Peacock added.

Mr. Peacock has subsequently traveled overseas for meetings with additional stakeholders of the internationally recognized green brand.

Clinical Trials Scheduled for Zonda's Rapid Chlamydia Test

In women, chlamydial infections, which are usually asymptomatic, may result in pelvic inflammatory disease (PID), which is a major cause of infertility, ectopic pregnancy, and chronic pelvic pain. As with other inflammatory STDs, chlamydial infection can facilitate the transmission of HIV infection. In addition, pregnant women infected with Chlamydia can pass the infection to their infants during delivery, potentially resulting in neonatal ophthalmia and pneumonia. Due to the large burden of disease and risks associated with infection, CDC recommends screening all sexually active women younger than 26 years of age for Chlamydia annually.

According to the estimates from the U.S. Census Department, in July 2006 there were 42,435,426 females between the ages of 15 years and 24 years of age. In 2006, 1,030,911 chlamydial infections were reported to CDC from 50 states and the District of Columbia. This is the first time in history that reported cases of Chlamydia in the U.S. have exceeded 1 million.

Javelin Assists ActionView International with Continued Cleanup Work as New Reverse Merger Candidates are Considered

Payment on Redwood Capital Agreement is Expected as Chuming Merger Closes; Steve Peacock Appointed to Manage Process

ActionView International, Inc. (OTC BB: AVWI), a client of Javelin Advisory Group, is continuing the cleanup process to prepare the company for a future reverse merger transaction.

ActionView was recently notified by the legal representatives of Dalian Chuming Group Co., LTD ("Dalian Chuming Group") and by Redwood Capital, Inc. that ActionView did not meet the requirements to serve as the public vehicle for the reverse merger transaction involving Dalian Chuming Group and that an alternative U.S. public company will be used for the transaction.

Subsequent to that announcement, the Chuming reverse merger did close with a different public vehicle.

The U.S. legal representatives for Dalian Chuming Group notified ActionView that after extensive due diligence and additional research, ActionView would not be a suitable U.S. public vehicle for Dalian Chuming Group. Redwood Capital provided additional details to ActionView, which included the fact that there was not sufficient time to complete the cleanup process of ActionView and that legal and investor representatives for Dalian Chuming Group were seeking a public company that had been properly seasoned for such a transaction.

Under its binding agreement with Redwood Capital to serve as the public vehicle for the Dalian Chuming Group reverse merger, ActionView has provided a financing component for the transaction and is entitled to receive repayment of the full amount of the financing with 20% interest per annum. In addition to repayment of the financing amount, ActionView is also entitled to receive an equity bonus equaling two times the value of the amount of the funding it has provided in the form of Dalian Chuming Group common stock.

With the recent close of the Chuming reverse merger, ActionView expects to receive both repayment of the financing amount and the equity bonus in the near term.

Javelin Advisory Group was originally retained by ActionView to maintain its fully reporting status and assist with the implementation of a strategy to deliver value for ActionView shareholders. Due to its expertise in sourcing shells, conducting due diligence and locating appropriate operating companies for each shell, Javelin has gained significant profile in the acquisition/reverse merger space.

As part of its work on behalf of ActionView, Javelin management has now stepped in to take a more active and prominent role in the process of preparing the company for a reverse merger and completing the transaction.

Steven R. Peacock, Managing Director of Javelin, has stepped in as chief executive officer of the public company while Rick Mari, the former chief executive officer, continues in his role as CEO of ActionView's subsidiary, ActionView Advertising Systems.

Franchise Capital Shareholders Retain a 35% Stake in Aero Exhaust After Completion of Acquisition Transaction

As a result of the share exchange, historic Franchise Capital shareholders have retained approximately 35% of the issued and outstanding common stock of the public company.

In connection with the share exchange agreement entered into by the companies, Franchise Capital provided to Aero a commercial revolving line of credit under which it advanced a total of $1,875,000. The terms of the line of credit called for any unpaid balance to be converted into shares of Aero common stock immediately prior to the closing of the share exchange agreement.

Aero's shareholders accepted the redemption of the line of credit payable to Franchise Capital as part of the share exchange agreement, which resulted in Franchise Capital historic shareholders holding 600,000,000 shares of its issued and outstanding common stock.

Immediately following the closing, there were 1,714,285,700 shares of Franchise Capital common stock outstanding, and Aero became a wholly owned subsidiary of Franchise Capital.

In addition to the details of the share exchange, the Form 8-K included information on Aero's product lines, including recently launched diesel exhaust kits; the company's marketing strategy, which utilizes high profile relationships with NASCAR and company spokesperson Rusty Wallace; information regarding the automotive market segments in which Aero does business, including statistics from an independent market research firm; and a description of Aero's current manufacturing relationships.

"We are extremely pleased to report the successful close of Franchise Capital's acquisition of Aero Exhaust, completing a process that was initiated over 9 months ago," commented chief executive officer Steven R. Peacock at the time of the close.

"It was our expectation when Aero Exhaust was first identified as the acquisition target for Franchise Capital that the close would be a highly anticipated event in our shareholder community, and we are confident that the close will be greeted with enthusiasm by Franchise Capital stockholders," he added.
